Here is a course offering on virtual facilitation by Stephen Thorpe in New Zealand. Please add other offerings you run across on virtual facilitation training in this discussion space.

Dear Sheila, Thank you for joining me for my session on Enhancing Your Online Facilitation with Storytelling at the IAF North America Conference in Vancouver in April last year! I am emailing to invite you to take part in the Zenergy Online Facilitation Skills program starting on 8 February and running through to 18 April. The program is based on the Zenergy person-centered facilitation approach. During the program participants learn the core skills necessary to facilitating online groups to success.

Key aspects of the program are:

- Identifying the unique aspects of facilitating online groups
- Applying the Zenergy person-centered approach online
- Exploration and application of a range of facilitation processes
- Exploring the use of text-based, audio and video tools

Participants will need to set aside 4-6 hours per week over the 10-week program. Participants actively engage in email and discussion forum conversations as well as exploring other web collaboration tools. There will be several opportunities to facilitate each other and receive coaching from the experienced program leaders and receive feedback from peers.

The fee for the program is ($NZ1450+GST) ~US$1,160 (inc taxes). Some scholarships are available.
